IV. Background

Founded in 1912, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce is the world's largest business organization representing the interests of more than 3 million businesses of all sizes, sectors, and regions. Its members range from mom-and-pop shops and local chambers to leading industry associations and large corporations.

The US Chamber has worked closely with EPA and attended some previous G7 meetings, including the 2017 G7 Environment Ministers Meeting, the 2018 G7 Alliance on Resource Efficiency, and the 2018 G20 Resource Efficiency Dialogue Meetings. The Chamber has also sent private sector representatives to G7 and G20 related environment meetings.

In the past, these calls with the U.S. Chamber of Commerce have served as a way of providing situational awareness regarding the outcomes of important international fora to the private sector.
